Frequently Asked Question regarding Casework:

1. Am I A Constituent?

Congressional courtesy, ethics rules and propriety dictate that each Member of Congress has the honor and responsibility to serve his or her own constituents. Visit my "Are You a Constituent" Page to find out if you live in the Florida's 16th Congressional District.

2. Does my case involve a federal agency?

As a Federal representative, I am able to make inquiries of Federal Agencies. If your case involves state, county, or local government, your public school district or any other public agencies, please visit <http://myflorida.com/taxonomy/government/> for contact information on your elected representatives. For your convenience, a list of many state, local and community based organizations is available here.

3. Is my situation a legal situation?

As a member of the Legislative Branch, I am unable to become involved in court cases or legal issues. This restriction is due to the Separation of Powers as outlined in the Constitution. This restriction applies to both civil and criminal matters.

4. What assistance can I expect from your office?

My office is here to assist constituents with problems involving a federal agency. Although I am unable to assure a specific outcome regarding a particular case, I may make inquiries as to the status of your case, obtain additional information, or direct you to appropriate resources or services. My role is to assure you a fair and thorough review of your case and to seek a timely response from the agency.
